HAS BEEN 25 YEARS A PRIEST

A Notable Observance of the Anniversary, at Which Many Wheeling Friends Participate .-- Reception in the Opera House last Evening. Many Presents.

Rev. Father S. S. Mattingly, rector of St. Mary's Catholic church, Martin's Ferry, celebrated his Silver Jubilee yesterday. Services were held in the church in the morning, at which the sermon was preached by Rev. Father Mulhane, of Mt. Vernon, O., and a reception was held in the Opera House in the evening, both of which were largely attended. A number of clergymen were in attendance. Many valuable presents were received, among them a horse and buggy. Altogether the anniversary was a grand success.

Mass was celebrated in the St. Marys Mass was celebrated in the St. Marys church at 9. a. m., with Father Mattingly as celebrant, Father Weygard, of Bridgeport, as deacon, and Father Smith, of Pine Grove, as sub-deacon. Father Mulhane, of Mt. Vernon, was master of ceremonies. Other clergymen present were Rt. Rev. Bishop Kane, of Wheeling; Rt. Rev. Monsignor Sullivan and Father McElligott, of Wheeling; Father McMenamin, of Benwood; Very Rev. Dean Hartnedy, of Steubenville, and Father Legden, of Toronto.

Toronto.

Father Mulhane's sermon was on "Vocation to the Priesthood." He spoke of the hardships and trials of the life of a priest, of the necessity of his being separated from his people. This separation was a difficult matter for some to understand, but a reflection on THE DUTIES AND LIFE OF THE PRIEST shows the necessity. A priest must attend to the temporal as well as the spiritual necessities of his flock. On spiritual necessities of his flock. On him is the burden of building the church for his flock. This makes him appear to many as devoting most of his time to worldly matters, but he looks more to spiritual wants of his flock, and this apparent concern in business matters is forced upon him to secure proper facilities for the decent worship of Almighty God. Father Mattingly was ordained by the late Most Rev. Archbishop James F. Wood, of Philadelphia, in the Philadelphia cathedral, with five other gentlemen, this day twenty-five years ago. Of these three are dead.

He then spoke of the devotion of the tlemen, this day twenty-five years ago. Of these three are dead.

He then spoke of the devotion of the people to their priest, and how scemingly difficult this devotion is to be understood. He alluded to the sorrows and joys of the priest's life. He told the congregation that they should be thankful to Almighty God for granting to them a pastor the length of years he had given him, and should pray God to grant him many more years of work for His honor and glory amongst them. He said that under him, with their generous assistance, has been erected the beautiful place to the honor and glory of God. He concluded by reminding the people that it was their duty to pray for His blessings upon their priest, for these same blessings came through the priest to his people. He wished that those blessings might come from heaven upon both their priest and themselves.

LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS. At the conclusion of the mass the Te Deun was sung by the choir and sodalities.

At 1 o'clock an excellent dinner was served and enjoyed by all the clergymen present.

Forty or filty congratulatory letters and many telegrams were received by Father Mattingly, asking God's blessing with many more years.

The church was beautifully decorated with candles and flowers. Over the altar appeared the motto: "Our Beloved Pastor's Silver Jubilee," and at the gallery, "Silver Jubilee."

Bishop Watterson had been invited and it was confidently expected he would come, but he was unable to come on account of sickness. The following telegram' from him was to have been

"I intended leaving last night. Sorry

I was prevented. Express my regards to your people. The good work you have done in Martin's Ferry entitles you to whatever honor my presence at your Silver Jubilee could give you. Ac-cept my thanks and cordial congratula-tions and good wishes for many more years. John A. Watterson." Years. JOHN A. WALLS

The Opera House was crowded in the evening on the occasion of the reception. Over the stage appeared the inscription Over the stage appeared the inscription "Our Beloved Pastor's Silver "Jubilee." All present were highly pleased with what they saw and heard. The entertainment was a credit to the Catholic schools. As many as seventy pupils appeared on the stage at one time, many of the little girls wearing white, and the large audience showed its appreciation by frequent and enthusiastic appliance. The Oats Faunted.

A report reached the city last night at a late hour that Rev. Mr. Sweeney, while conducting revival services in West End church at Bridgeport, had dropped dead. The story seemed to be on the best authority, and it was said the death caused the greatest excitement in the congregation. Investigation showed, however, that while the story was not strictly true there was a good foundation for it. Mr. Sweeney was preaching when he was taken suddenly ill, and after standing motionless for a moment he fell forward to the floor. Much excitement was naturally created. After a minute or so the minister recovered and arose, but he did not resume his sermon, being still very ill. The congregation was dismissed and he was taken to his boarding house, where at last accounts he was resting easy.
